address these gaps. It covers the current state of skills policy in India and the evidence that we have so far, of its impact and effectiveness, the current economic scene and employment prospects and industry demand in 2013. It also explores the links to livelihood outcomes and behaviour from a social protection perspective, especially for the poor and the workers within the informal sector. As a new feature, the SOIL Report 2013 also carries a Statistical Atlas of Livelihoods, which illustrates some of the major indicators of the status of livelihood using disaggregated data at the state level. ACCESS Development Services is a national support organisation with focus on incubating innovations for sustainable livelihoods of the poor. Set up in March 2006, ACCESS is structured uniquely, to work at all the discrepancy between skills found in the UK and Europe in mathematics. This collection of articles from leading researchers and teachers considers solutions to this problem, with suggestions outlined for new methods of teaching the subject. Topics include the application of mathematics to engineering careers; the problems of wider access to higher education and current practices that are helping to tackle them; teaching experience from varying educational establishments; and computer-based teaching and assessment. The discussions presented here should be read by anyone involved in mathematics, education, and engineering
