Concepts of Biology

2018-01-07 Samantha Fowler Concepts of Biology is designed for the single-semester introduction to biology course for non-science majors, which for many students is their only college-level science course. As such, this course represents an important opportunity for students to develop the necessary knowledge, tools, and skills to make informed decisions as they continue with their lives. Rather than being mired down with facts and vocabulary, the typical non-science major student needs information presented in a way that is easy to read and understand. Even more importantly, the content should be meaningful. Students do much better when they understand why biology is relevant to their everyday lives. For these reasons, Concepts of Biology is grounded on an evolutionary basis and includes exciting features that highlight careers in the biological sciences and everyday applications of the concepts at hand. We also strive to show the interconnectedness of topics within this extremely broad discipline. In order to meet the needs of today's instructors and students, we maintain the overall organization and coverage found in most syllabi for this course. A strength of Concepts of Biology is that instructors can customize the book, adapting it to the approach that works best in their classroom. Concepts of Biology also includes an innovative art program that incorporates critical thinking and clicker questions to help students understand--and apply--key concepts.

Anna never forgot her first love, Leo. They met when they were both 16, at a summer camp. They spent every day together, laughing, talking, kissing. They promised to stay in touch, to wait for each other, to love each other forever. But life had other plans. They lost contact, they moved on, they married other people. Years later, they met again, by chance, at a reunion. They felt the same spark, the same connection, the same love. But they also felt the same pain, the same guilt, the same regret. They had to make a choice, between their past and their present, between their hearts and their minds, between their first love and their last.

Sam woke up screaming, covered in sweat. He had the same nightmare again, the one where he was chased by a dark figure with a knife. He looked at the clock, it was 3:15 am. He tried to calm himself down, telling himself it was just a dream. But he knew it was more than that. He knew the figure was real, and it was coming for him. He had seen it before, in the news, in the police sketches, in the faces of the victims. It was the serial killer that had been terrorizing the city for months. And Sam was his next target.
