On Essays 2020-09-04 Thomas Karshan Montaigne called it a ramble; Chesterton the joke of literature; and Hume an ambassador between the worlds of learning and of conversation. But what is an essay, and how did it emerge as a literary form? What are the continuities and contradictions across its history, from Montaigne's 1580 Essais through the familiar intimacies of the Romantic essay, and up to more recent essayists such as Virginia Woolf, James Baldwin, and Claudia Rankine? Sometimes called the fourth genre, the essay has been over-shadowed in literary history by fiction, poetry, and drama, and has proved notoriously resistant to definition. On Essays reveals in the essay a pattern of paradox: at once a pedagogical tool and a refusal of the methodical languages of universities and professions; politically engaged but retired and independent; erudite and anti-pedantic; occasional and enduring; intimate and oratorical; allusive and idiosyncratic. Perhaps because it is a form of writing against which literary scholarship has defined itself, there has been surprisingly little work on the tradition of the essay. Neither a comprehensive history nor a student companion, On Essays is a series of seventeen elegantly written essays on authors and aspects in the history of the genre — essays which, taken together, form the most substantial book yet published on the essay in Britain and America.

Manufacturing Celebrity 2020-08-14 Vanessa Diaz In Manufacturing Celebrity Vanessa Diaz traces the complex power dynamics of the reporting and paparazzi work that fuel contemporary Hollywood and American celebrity culture. Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork, her experience reporting for People magazine, and dozens of interviews with photographers, journalists, publicists, magazine editors, and celebrities, Diaz examines the racialized and gendered labor involved in manufacturing and selling reliable celebrity personas. Celebrity reporters, most of whom are white women, are expected to leverage their sexuality to generate coverage, which makes them vulnerable to sexual exploitation and assault. Meanwhile, the predominantly male Latino paparazzi can face life-threatening situations and endure vilification that echoes anti-immigrant rhetoric. In pointing out the precarity of those who hustle to make a living by generating the bulk of celebrity media, Diaz highlights the profound inequities of the systems that provide consumers with 24/7 coverage of their favorite stars.

Later-Life Social Support and Service Provision in Diverse and Vulnerable Populations 2017-06-26 Janet M. Wilmoth Later-Life Social Support and Service Provision in Diverse and Vulnerable Populations offers current, multidisciplinary perspectives on social support and service provision to older Americans. The chapters trace how our understanding of social support among older adults has developed over the past 40 years and explore current gerontological research in the area. They consider how informal care arrangements articulate with formal long-term care policies and programs to provide support to the diverse population of older Americans. They also emphasize heterogeneity in the composition of support networks, particularly in relation to gender, sexual orientation, race/ethnicity, and immigrant status. Collectively, the chapters provide insight into the complexity of older adult's social support networks that can be used to improve the services provided to caregivers and care recipients as well as the policies that promote high-quality support to people of all ages who are in need of assistance.

Development of Writing Skills in Children in Diverse Cultural Contexts 2023-06-16 Alina Galvão Spinillo This book brings together multiple theoretical perspectives and disciplinary approaches to study the acquisition and development of written language by children as well as the implications for teaching and learning of writing practices in a variety of languages and cultural contexts. Chapters in this contributed volume present both theoretical contributions and results of research carried out with students and teachers from 11 countries (Belgium, Brazil, Chile, Israel, Italy, Mexico, the Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, UK and USA) who speak seven different languages: Portuguese, Spanish, English, Italian, French, Dutch and Hebrew. By bringing together research developed in diverse cultural contexts it enriches the debates in the interdisciplinary field of writing studies by analyzing a wide range of topics at the interface between research and educational implications for the teaching and learning of writing by children. The book consists of five parts, each one addressing a specific set of topics. Part I presents studies on topics related to written language representation systems (phonological and morphological awareness) and on the relationship between grammar and the quality of texts of different genres. Part II includes studies related to compositional processes of writing texts, and the factors involved in these processes. Part III focuses on the difficulties faced by students during the acquisition and development of writing. Part IV is dedicated to chapters that discuss and compare writing practices in different social environments. Finally, chapters in part V deal with teaching and learning of writing in the school setting. Development of Writing Skills in Children in Diverse Cultural Contexts: Contributions to Teaching and Learning will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of psychology, education and linguistics, as well as to other social scientists in the broader interdisciplinary field of writing studies.

First Love that Never Fades

Anna could never forget her first love, Leo. Their paths had crossed when they were both 16, at a magical summer camp. They were drawn to each other like magnets, spending every day sharing laughter, engaging in deep conversations, and sharing stolen kisses. Their bond was solid, and they vowed to keep in touch, to wait for each other, and to never let their love fade. But life, as it often does, had other arrangements in store for them. They lost track of each other, they moved on with their lives, and they eventually married other people. Years passed, and the whirlwind of life took them in different directions. But fate, it seems, had not forgotten their unwavering connection. At a chance encounter, at a sentimental reunion, their paths crossed once again. The moment they laid eyes on each other, the flame of their first love rekindled. The same undeniable attraction that had drawn them together years ago was still palpable. They felt the same excitement that had fueled their teenage romance, but they also felt the weight of time. Their souls ached for the deep connection they had shared, but their minds grappled with the challenges of their current lives. They were caught in a emotional battle, torn between the alluring memories of their first love and the comfort and familiarity of their present. They stood at a critical juncture, forced to make a difficult choice. Would they choose the intense connection of their first love, risking the unknown that lay ahead, or would they hold onto the security of their current lives, forever wondering what could have been? Only time would tell if their first love would find a way to prevail.

The Peabody Picture Vocabulary Test 4th Edition (PPVT-4) is a widely recognized vocabulary assessment that has been in use for close to half a century. Formulated by Lloyd M. Dunn and Douglas M. Dunn, the test is made to assess vocabulary comprehension for American English. It is fast and effortless to administer, saving precious time so that attention can be put on executing intelligent approaches.

The PPVT-4 assessment subject matter covers a wide scope of receptive vocabulary ranks, spanning from pre-kindergarten through adulthood. The evaluation problems extensively sample words that represent 20 content domains (e.g., actions, vegetables, tools), speech parts (nouns, verbs, attributes), and home and school vocabulary. The assessment offers two identical versions which include distinct vocabulary items, guaranteeing that the person has not "memorized" the assessment. One form can be employed ahead of intervention implementation to evaluate individuals' vocabulary knowledge and the alternative form can be utilized for re-evaluation to evaluate and record improvement. The PPVT-4 also features a special Growth Scale Value (GSV) which is reactive to slight changes over time.

Journey of a Thousand Miles

He was exhausted of his living. He was dull, depressed, and discontented. He had a employment he despised, a boss he despised, and a significant other he didn't cherish. He had no passion, no aim, no meaning. He felt like he was wasting his time, his potential, his being. He wanted to alter, he desired to flee, he desired to live. He decided to resign from his employment, to end things with his significant other, to sell his belongings, and to buy a single pass to the other side of the earth. He didn't understand where he was going, he didn't know what he was carrying out, he didn't understand what he was looking for. He only understood that he had to depart, that he had to investigate, that he had to find out. He embarked on a voyage of a thousand kilometers, a voyage of adventure, of challenge, of learning, of progress, of alteration.

The field of Engineering Economics and Cost Estimation is a crucial aspect of any engineering project. It involves present and future economic factors, making it critical to obtain reliable estimates of future costs, benefits, and other economic parameters. Engineers often deal with projects whose scale, complexity, and uncertainty call for advanced approaches to planning and budgeting<sup>[2]</sup><sup>[1]</sup>. Several methods are used for cost estimation, including rough estimates, semi-detailed estimates, or detailed estimates, depending on the needs for the estimates<sup>[1]</sup><sup>[2]</sup>. Key concepts in this field include overhead costs, cost driver identification, cost allocation methods, capital budgeting, flexible budgeting, zero-based budgeting, budgets, and estimates. A number of models are available for developing cost (or benefit) estimates, such as the per-unit model, the segmenting model, cost indexes, the power-sizing model, and learning curve cost estimating. The quality of a cost estimate generally increases as the resources allocated to developing the estimate increase.
