Socrates, or on Human Knowledge

2019-08-19 Simone Luzzatto Socrates, Or On Human Knowledge, published in Venice in 1651, is the only work written by a Jew that contains so far the promise of a genuinely sceptical investigation into the validity of human certainties. Simone Luzzatto masterly developed this book as a pièce de theatre where Socrates, as main actor, has the task to demonstrate the limits and weaknesses of the human capacity to acquire knowledge without being guided by revelation. He achieved this goal by offering an overview of the various and contradictory gnosiological opinions disseminated since ancient times: the divergence of views, to which he addressed the most attention, prevented him from giving a fixed definition of the nature of the cognitive process. This obliged him to come to the audacious conclusion of neither affirming nor denying anything concerning human knowledge, and finally of suspending his judgement altogether. This work unfortunately had little success in Luzzatto's lifetime, and was subsequently almost forgotten. The absence of substantial evidence from his contemporaries and that of his epistolary have thus increased the difficulty of tracing not only its legacy in the history of philosophical thought, but also of understanding the circumstances surrounding the writing of his Socrates. The present edition will be a preliminary study aiming to shed some light on the philosophical and historical value of this work's translation, indeed it will provide a broader readership with the opportunity to access this immensely complicated work and also to grasp some aspects of the composite intellectual framework and admirable modernity of Venetian Jewish culture in the ghetto.

The Peabody Picture Vocabulary Test Fourth Edition (PPVT-4) is a highly regarded vocabulary assessment that has been in practice for almost 50 years. Formulated by Lloyd M. Dunn and Douglas M. Dunn, the evaluation is crafted to assess receptive vocabulary for Standard American English. It is fast and simple to carry out, preserving precious time so that focus can be placed on executing intelligent interventions. The PPVT-4 assessment subject matter includes a extensive scope of receptive vocabulary levels, extending from preschool through adulthood. The test problems broadly sample words that depict 20 topic fields (e.g., actions, vegetables, tools), parts of speech (nouns, verbs, attributes), and home and educational vocabulary. The evaluation gives two equivalent editions which include different vocabulary words, making sure that the individual has not "learned" the evaluation. One edition can be used ahead of intervention implementation to measure test-takers' vocabulary knowledge and the alternative form can be employed for re-assessment to evaluate and document improvement. The PPVT-4 also contains a distinctive Growth Scale Value (GSV) which is responsive to minor changes with time.

This is a typical practice in many institutions where panels are formed to evaluate and criticize research titles before they are allowed to proceed with the actual research. The defense usually consists of a question-and-answer session intended at proving the importance of the research you have chosen and determining if you, as a researcher, are actually able of accomplishing it.
