The book “Analyzing Casual Conversation” by Suzanne Egins and Diana Slade, originally published in 1997, creates a systematic model for the analysis and depiction of casual conversation in English. The scholars contend that despite its at times aimless look and ostensibly unstructured content, casual conversation is a very structured task and has a critical part in the social formation of reality. The book works through authentic samples of casual conversations involving participants varying in age, gender, ethnicity, and socio-economic class¹². Pulling on insights from sociology, linguistics, and critical semiotics, the publication provides readers with the analytical skills to describe the levels of structure and critical interpretive models to clarify the ‘social work’ that occurs on through chat.
