Emessaging and the Physician/Patient Dynamic

2019-12-12 Susan M Wieczorek Ten years after the adoption of the HITECH Act of 2009, eMessaging and the Physician/Patient Dynamic: Practices in Transition examines the complex, interlocking forces at play when mandates for electronic health records (EHRs) and electronic messaging within secured health portals forced an unprecedented transformation of the healthcare environment. Technological, sociological, medical, economic, political, governmental, legal, and communication issues converged, forever altering the "medicological environment," a space within which health professionals and patients alike strive towards efficacious, satisfying transactions that lead to improved health. Susan M. Wieczorek's analysis discusses the layers of policies and regulations that thrust healthcare users--often unwillingly--into the newly required practice of online communication between physicians and patients. Wieczorek also compares and contrasts rural and urban early adoption practices through the use of surveys, critical incident reports, and oral histories and anticipates future trends in data mining of electronic messaging by demonstrating a content analysis of over 60,000 electronic medical transactions within secured health portals. This book identifies the key converging influences that affected the real-life, early adopters amid this transformation process and provides a practical foundation for current, on-going practice applications while anticipating the inevitable challenges of future health communication technologies. Scholars of communication, health, and media studies will find this book particularly useful.

Corporate Sustainability and Responsibility in Tourism

2019-05-03 Dagmar Lund-Durlacher This book offers essential insights into how the world's second largest industry, tourism, is responding to challenges involved in expanding the corporate social responsibility (CSR) concept to corporate sustainability and responsibility, referred to as CSR 2.0. It analyzes the typical setup of tourism with various types of commercial agents: corporations, small and medium sized enterprises, public-private partnerships, social enterprises and local cooperatives. In addition, the book examines a broad range of voluntary initiatives, the effectiveness of these efforts, and how contextual and wider policy features shape these relationships. The book is divided into three parts, the first of which elaborates on strategic drivers and rationales for CSR. In turn, the second part introduces readers to design approaches for CSR programs and envisaged impacts, while part three focuses on implementation, certification, reporting, and possible outcomes. Each part offers a mixture of theoretical perspectives, synthesis analyses and case studies. The respective chapters tackle a broad spectrum of tourism sub-sectors, e.g. the cruise industry, aviation, gastronomy, nature-based tourism, and urban destinations.

First Love that Never Fades

Anna could never forget her first love, Leo. Their paths had crossed when they were both 16, at a magical summer camp. They were inseparable, spending every day laughing, engaging in deep conversations, and sharing stolen kisses. Their bond was unbreakable, and they vowed to maintain their bond, to wait for each other, and to never let their love fade. But life, as it often does, had a different path in store for them. They lost track of each other, they moved on with their lives, and they eventually married other people. Years passed, and the hustle and bustle of life took them in different directions. But fate, it seems, had not forgotten their unbreakable connection. At a chance encounter, at a long-awaited reunion, their paths crossed once again. The moment they laid eyes on each other, the embers of their affection rekindled. The same magnetic pull that had drawn them together years ago was still potent. They felt the same thrill that had fueled their teenage romance, but they also felt the reality of their present. Their hearts yearned for the unwavering devotion they had shared, but their minds grappled with the complexity of their current lives. They were caught in a tug-of-war, torn between the passion of their past and the complications of their present. They stood at a defining moment, forced to make a difficult choice. Would they choose the all-consuming passion of their first love, risking the uncertainty that lay ahead, or would they hold onto the predictability of their current lives, forever wondering what could have been? Only time would tell if their unbreakable bond would find a way to prevail.
