The book "Analyzing Casual Conversation" by Suzanne Egins and Diana Slade, originally released in 1997, creates a methodical model for the study and depiction of casual conversation in English. The writers contend that notwithstanding its sometimes aimless seeming and ostensibly unstructured substance, casual conversation is a very structured activity and plays a vital function in the social construction of reality. The publication goes through genuine instances of casual conversations entailing participants diverging in age, gender, ethnicity, and socio-economic class<sup>12</sup>. Pulling on insights from sociology, linguistics, and critical semiotics, the work equips readers with the analytic skills to portray the levels of structure and critical interpretive frameworks to clarify the 'social work' that goes on through chat.
