Chapter 4 of Holt Chemistry, titled "The Periodic Table", provides a comprehensive overview of the table of elements and its constituents. The chapter begins with a dialogue on the characteristics of groupings and periods, clarifying how Russian chemist Dmitri Mendeleev arranged elements by their weight in increasing order¹. It then explores the concept of outer electrons and levels of energy of atoms, highlighting the part of valence electrons in reactions and changes to atomic structures and molecular structures.

The chapter moreover separates between transition metals and main elements, elaborating on their characteristics and attributes. It also explains the notion of ionization energy and its tendencies among groups and periodic groups on the periodic table¹. The chapter discusses atomic and ionic, and how these can be predicted based on an atom’s place on the table of elements.

Electronegativity, which quantifies an atom’s propensity to attract a bonding pair of electrons, is another crucial theme addressed in this part¹. The chapter concludes with a discussion on the diagonal relationship, metallic character, and point of boiling of components.

In terms of practice questions, the chapter provides a range of questions and standardized test preparation resources to reinforce the concepts studied. These questions cover a range of themes, from grasping the arrangement of components to exploring the tendencies in the table of elements.
