book provides a bridge between the legal professional and the education professional, offering an introduction to legal analysis. Since the first edition of this book, the law's role in schools has continued to expand. New problems call for new legal and policy solutions. The second edition focuses on school search cases as illustrations and brings them forward to today's concerns about searching cell phones, off campus activities, and even sexting. Written by a law professor who has long worked with both educators and law students, Redfield's book introduces the essential concepts of thinking like a lawyer. Thinking Like a Lawyer uses narrative, actual court cases, study tips, research methodologies, and an extensive glossary illustrated with education law examples to remove the mystique of reading about law. It also allows those

The Peabody Picture Vocabulary Test Fourth Edition (PPVT-4) is a widely recognized vocabulary test that has been in use for close to half a century. Formulated by Lloyd M. Dunn and Douglas M. Dunn, the assessment is made to evaluate receptive vocabulary for American English. It is fast and simple to conduct, conserving valuable time so that attention can be placed on applying effective approaches.

The PPVT-4 evaluation material covers a wide range of receptive vocabulary ranks, extending from pre-kindergarten through adulthood. The evaluation questions widely include words that portray 20 content domains (e.g., actions, vegetables, tools), parts of speech (nouns, verbs, attributes), and home and school vocabulary.

The evaluation provides two identical forms which contain various vocabulary items, making sure that the individual has not “memorized” the evaluation. One form can be utilized before intervention to assess individuals’ vocabulary comprehension and the other version can be employed for re-testing to measure and note improvement. The PPVT-4 also includes a distinctive Growth Scale Value (GSV) which is sensitive to small changes with time.
