The publication "Analyzing Casual Conversation" by Suzanne Eggins and Diana Slade, first issued in 1997, develops a systematic model for the analysis and depiction of casual conversation in English. The authors assert that notwithstanding its at times aimless seeming and seemingly unstructured content, casual conversation is a extremely structured activity and has a crucial part in the social construction of reality. The publication works through authentic examples of casual conversations including participants varying in age, gender, ethnicity, and socio-economic class<sup>12</sup>. Deriving on understandings from sociology, linguistics, and critical semiotics, the work furnishes readers with the examinative skills to depict the levels of structure and critical interpretive structures to explain the 'social work' that happens on through chat.
