The Hidden Staircase 2009-04 Carolyn Keene This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1917 edition. Excerpt: ... (6) Columns for Discount on Purchases and Discount on Notes on the same side of the Cash Book; (c) Columns for Discount on Sales and Cash Sales on the debit side of the Cash Book; (d) Departmental columns in the Sales Book and in the Purchase Book. Controlling Accounts.--The addition of special columns in books of original entry makes possible the keeping of Controlling Accounts. The most common examples of such accounts are Accounts Receivable account and Accounts Payable account. These summary accounts, respectively, displace individual customers' and creditors' accounts in the Ledger. The customers' accounts are then segregated in another book called the Sales Ledger or Customers' Ledger, while the creditors' accounts are kept in the Purchase or Creditors' Ledger. The original Ledger, now much reduced in size, is called the General Ledger. The Trial Balance now refers to the accounts in the General Ledger. It is evident that the task of taking a Trial Balance is greatly simplified because so many fewer accounts are involved. A Schedule of Accounts Receivable is then prepared, consisting of the balances found in the Sales Ledger, and its total must agree with the balance of the Accounts Receivable account shown in the Trial Balance. A similar Schedule of Accounts Payable, made up of all the balances in the Purchase Ledger, is prepared, and it must agree with the balance of the Accounts Payable account of the General Ledger." The Balance Sheet.--In the more elementary part of the text, the student learned how to prepare a Statement of Assets and Liabilities for the purpose of disclosing the net capital of an enterprise. In the present chapter he was shown how to prepare a similar statement, the Balance Sheet. For all practical...

Anna could never banish from her thoughts her first love, Leo. Their paths had crossed when they were both 16, at a idyllic summer camp. They were inseparable, spending every day exchanging lighthearted banter, engaging in deep conversations, and sharing stolen kisses. Their bond was indestructible, and they vowed to keep in touch, to remain faithful, and to never let their love fade. But life, as it often does, had a different path in store for them. They lost contact, they moved on with their lives, and they eventually married other people. Years passed, and the turmoil of life took them in different directions. But fate, it seems, had not forgotten their unwavering connection. At a chance encounter, at a long-awaited reunion, their paths crossed once again. The moment they laid eyes on each other, the spark of their connection rekindled. The same magnetic pull that had drawn them together years ago was still unmistakable. They felt the same excitement that had fueled their teenage romance, but they also felt the reality of their present. Their hearts yearned for the deep connection they had shared, but their minds grappled with the tangled web of their current lives. They were caught in an emotional battle, torn between the passion of their past and the comfort and familiarity of their present. They stood at a defining moment, forced to make a difficult choice. Would they choose the all-consuming passion of their first love, risking the unknown that lay ahead, or would they hold onto the stability of their current lives, forever wondering what could have been? Only time would tell if their unwavering connection would survive the test of time.
