The publication "Analyzing Casual Conversation" by Suzanne Eggins and Diana Slade, originally published in 1997, creates a methodical model for the examination and description of casual conversation in English. The scholars assert that notwithstanding its at times aimless appearance and seemingly unstructured material, casual conversation is an extremely structured activity and performs a vital part in the social construction of reality. The work proceeds through genuine examples of casual conversations including participants varying in age, gender, ethnicity, and socio-economic class¹². Drawing on insights from sociology, linguistics, and critical semiotics, the book equips readers with the analytic skills to portray the strata of structure and critical interpretive models to elucidate the 'social work' that occurs on through chat.
