The Home Distiller's Workbook
2012 Jeff King Moonshine! A word that evokes images of America's outlaw heritage. Making moonshine has been such a huge part of our culture that many historians credit it as one of the cornerstones of our nations foundations. How to make moonshine? Is quite likely the very question that brought you here. A yearning to learn the traditions that are in danger of being forgotten in the modern, digital era. I wrote this book to pass along the knowledge that was taught to me in the hills of Kentucky over 30 years ago. Along the way though I developed my own style. I boiled down what I learned and created a simplified style that any beginner can follow. I've developed designs that can be used right in the comfort of you own kitchen or out back in the woods! The truth is that Moonshining, aka "Home Distilling" is a folk art that helped build this country. Together we can make it live again, and have a little fun in the process! And a quick thank you to all my readers who have helped make The Home Distiller the best selling book ever on the art and science of making moonshine. Shine On!

The Vacuum Cleaner

2012-09-26 Carroll Gantz House cleaning has been an innate human activity forever but only since the early 19th century have mechanical devices replaced the physical labor (performed mostly by women). Mechanical carpet sweepers were replaced by manual suction cleaners, which in turn were replaced by electric vacuum cleaners in the early 20th century. Innovative inventors, who improved vacuum cleaners as electricity became commonly available, made these advances possible. Many early manufacturers failed, but some, such as Bissell, Hoover, Eureka and others, became household names as they competed for global dominance with improved features, performance and appearance. This book describes the fascinating people who made this possible, as well as the economic, cultural and technological contexts of their times. From obscure beginnings 200 years ago, vacuum cleaners have become an integral part of modern household culture.

First Love that Never Fades

Anna could never forget her first love, Leo. Their paths had crossed when they were both 16, at a idyllic summer camp. They were utterly smitten, spending every day laughing, exchanging heartfelt thoughts, and experiencing the thrill of first love. Their bond was indestructible, and they vowed to stay connected, to cherish their connection, and to never let their love fade. But life, as it often does, had other arrangements in store for them. They lost communication, they moved on with their lives, and they eventually married other people. Years passed, and the hustle and bustle of life took them in different directions. But fate, it seems, had not forgotten their unwavering connection. At a chance encounter, at a nostalgic reunion, their paths crossed once again. The moment they laid eyes on each other, the flame of their first love rekindled. The same undeniable attraction that had drawn them together years ago was still unmistakable.
