The publication "Analyzing Casual Conversation" by Suzanne Eggins and Diana Slade, originally published in 1997, develops a systematic model for the study and portrayal of casual conversation in English. The scholars assert that despite its at times aimless look and seemingly unstructured content, casual conversation is a highly structured undertaking and has a vital function in the social building of reality. The publication proceeds through real samples of casual conversations involving participants varying in age, gender, ethnicity, and socio-economic class¹². Drawing on insights from sociology, linguistics, and critical semiotics, the publication equips readers with the analytical skills to portray the strata of structure and critical interpretive frameworks to elucidate the 'social work' that goes on through chat.
