The New Book of Middle Eastern Food

2008-12-24 Claudia Roden The definitive volume on Middle Eastern cooking, a modern classic from the award-winning, bestselling author of The Book of Jewish Food and Claudia Roden's Mediterranean. Originally published in 1972 and hailed by James Beard as "a landmark in the field of cookery," this new version represents the accumulation of the author's years of extensive travel throughout the ever-changing landscape of the Middle East, gathering recipes and stories. Now featuring more than 800 recipes, including the aromatic variations that accent a dish and define the country of origin: fried garlic and cumin and coriander from Egypt, cinnamon and allspice from Turkey, sumac and tamarind from Syria and Lebanon, pomegranate syrup from Iran, preserved lemon and harissa from North Africa. Claudia Roden has worked out simpler approaches to traditional dishes, using healthier ingredients and time-saving methods without ever sacrificing any of the extraordinary flavor, freshness, and texture that distinguish the cooking of this part of the world. Throughout these pages she draws on all four of the region's major cooking styles: • The refined haute cuisine of Iran, based on rice exquisitely prepared and embellished with a range of meats, vegetables, fruits, and nuts • Arab cooking from Syria, Lebanon, and Jordan—at its finest today, and a good source for vegetable and bulgur wheat dishes • The legendary Turkish cuisine, with its kebabs, wheat and rice dishes, yogurt salads, savory pies, and syrupy pastries • North African cooking, particularly the splendid fare of Morocco, with its heady mix of hot and sweet, orchestrated to perfection in its couscous dishes and tagines. From the tantalizing mezze—succulent bites of filled fillo crescents and cigars, chopped salads, and stuffed morsels, as well as tahina, chickpeas, and eggplant in their many guises—to the skewered meats and savory stews and hearty grain and vegetable dishes, here is a rich array of Middle Eastern cooking.

First Love that Never Fades

Anna could never banish from her thoughts her first love, Leo. Their paths had crossed when they were both 16, at a idyllic summer camp. They were drawn to each other like magnets, spending every day sharing laughter, engaging in deep conversations, and sharing stolen kisses. Their bond was unbreakable, and they vowed to maintain their bond, to remain faithful, and to love each other forever. But life, as it often does, had different plans in store for them. They lost track of each other, they moved on with their lives, and they eventually married other people. Years passed, and the turmoil of life took them in different directions. But fate, it seems, had not forgotten their undeniable connection. At a chance encounter, at a long-awaited reunion, their paths crossed once again. The moment they laid eyes on each other, the embers of their affection rekindled. The same electric spark that had drawn them together years ago was still palpable. They felt the same excitement that had fueled their teenage romance, but they also felt the reality of their present. Their souls ached for the unwavering devotion they had shared, but their minds grappled with the complexity of their current lives. They were caught in a conflict of the heart, torn between the passion of their past and the complications of their present. They stood at a defining moment, forced to make a heartbreaking choice. Would they choose the magnetic pull of their first love, risking the unknown that lay ahead, or would they hold onto the security of their current lives, forever wondering what could have been? Only time would tell if their unwavering connection would survive the test of time.
