Hope Looks Good on You!

2021-04-30 Dorie McLemore Imagine starting your day with a dose of hope and joy - how could living with less stress and anxiety impact your life? These 21 daily joy-inducing devotions will help you develop a new habit of hope! This uplifting devotional book is the perfect coffee companion for your personal morning devotions or to use for small group discussions in your home...or in a coffee shop if you don't want to clean your house. It also would be wonderful for your church women's book group to do on-line together! In this Daily Devotional Journal you will - Laugh...a funny, painfully true story starts each day off with a bit of laughter which is "a good medicine" and burns calories, enough said. - Learn...each daily devotion time includes Scripture and a practical application to the issues you face today. - Live...the "Reflect and Journal" portion at the end of each chapter includes a question or writing/drawing prompt to help you connect the day's lesson to your life. Bonuses: ...A 10-day Amish Friendship Bread Recipe, chapter 3 ...Photo of a puppet-producing business prototype, chapter 17 ...Pictures of creepy costumes, including a Bank robber, chapter 4, a Tin man, chapter 12 and a Mute Hunchback, chapter 21 Author Dorie McLemore is a licensed minister / comedian / story-teller / joy-bringer / coffee-lover who believes that caffeine is keeping her alive, popcorn should have its own food group, dry-cleaning saves marriages and that true joy comes from knowing we are worthy of God's love in the middle of all our imperfections. She has been speaking and performing comedy around the country and around the world since 2006. She also travels with comedian Michael Jr., Sisters United, and in the carpool line for two different schools. She has written countless Family Bestsellers like: Wednesday Grocery List, Vacation Itinerary Summer 2018, and Aunt Susie's 64th Birthday Card, among others. Note from the author: Writing a devotional book about hope and joy can be tricky because it has the connotation that I am the most hopeful and joyful person on the planet...that flowers spring up where I step and some type of musical montage starts when I enter the room. This is not the case. In fact, if you happen to see me in my car in a bit of traffic one day, I hope my face shows the hope and joy in my heart rather than any other emotion or the hormones running through my veins. I wrote this devotional book because I am on my own joy journey. I am learning that choosing hope and joy in the middle of chaos and difficult circumstances is not some form of unrealistic optimism -- there is actual power in the act of living hopeful. There is joy in knowing we are deeply loved by God in the middle of our imperfections. It's something about which I continue to learn and this devotional book contains a splattering of lessons God has taught me through some of my own "Dorie stories" that I pray will be helpful to those wanting more hope and joy in their lives! Add this daily devotional journal to your cart and start your day on a hopeful note!

Bloom In God's Promises

2021-05-31 Mary Rodman In order for a flower to bloom, it must first grow. The flower produces a seed or a bulb, and the cycle continues. As a Christian, we have a continuous cycle as well. We bloom and grow. The buds, the blooms and the dying flowers. They are each symbols of our walk with Christ. God will transform you from a bud or dying flower, into a beautiful bloom when you bask in His promises daily. Read Mary's award winning devotional: Happy Place within these pages. "Picture in your mind your happy place. A place where you are calm, your troubles are few, and you have a peaceful smile on your face. You look off into the distance, and you see someone walking toward you, but you don't recognize Him. This man calls out to you, and suddenly you realize..." Mary has a way of taking an ordinary day and seeing God's blessings and miracles sprinkled throughout. As we rush through our busy lives, we miss so many of these wonderful "gifts." Take a deep breath, slow down, and enjoy Mary's perspective on living life with our eyes wide open to what God is doing in and around us, every single day. It will bless you to see things from this new awareness of His Presence. Susan Knight, Amazon Customer Mary's words are from her heart. I can see every story, as if I was standing there watching it happen. I laughed so hard at some of the stories because, life happens in unexpected ways. The stories of her family and friends are heartwarming. TJG, Amazon Customer Read the Bloom Daily Devotional Series to discover a renewed awareness of Jesus in your life. Through her words, Mary will remind you to BLOOM in all of life's situations. Experience the joy of seeing God daily and learn to walk a consistent and confident pathway with Jesus. Can you answer the question--Who Are You? There is often a difference between how we perceive ourselves and how God sees us. This question is the cornerstone of Mary's retreat, Who Are You? Discover the Woman God Created You to Be. Woven throughout Bloom In God's Promises are tidbits from the retreat as Mary weaves Biblical knowledge with real life examples in her devotionals.

Engineering Economics and Cost Estimation is a vital aspect of any engineering project. It involves current and upcoming economic factors, making it essential to obtain reliable estimates of future costs, benefits, and other economic parameters. Engineers regularly deal with projects whose scale, complexity, and uncertainty call for complex approaches to planning and budgeting[<sup>2</sup>][1]. A number of methods are used for cost estimation, including rough estimates, semi-detailed estimates, or detailed estimates, depending on the needs for the estimates[<sup>1</sup>][2]. Key concepts in this field include overhead costs, cost driver identification, cost allocation methods, capital budgeting, flexible budgeting, zero-based budgeting, budgets, and estimates. A number of models are available for developing cost (or benefit) estimates, such as the per-unit model, the segmenting model, cost indexes, the power-sizing model, and learning curve cost estimating. The quality of a cost estimate usually increases as the resources allocated to developing the estimate increase.

It was a dark and turbulent night. The downpour was pouring down, and the wind was whistling. In the middle of the town, there was an exhibition, where an invaluable diamond was on show.
