Mr. Dire C. G. Peltier 2017-05 Call it destiny, twist of fate or anything that you would like. Two American babies, born two weeks apart in different parts of the country, destined to drastically effect each other's lives. One baby boy with high intelligence, born into poverty, unwanted as a child, abused, without a father, orphaned before his teen years, and having used his unique abilities to pull himself out of a world of despair. The other boy, born into a strict, but loving middle class family of four, nurtured, also intelligent, and athletically inclined. And not wanting to grow up in his father's footsteps. One had joined the Marine Corps and became an intelligence officer, while the other the U.S. Army and became an Army Ranger. Both had multiple deployments on the front lines in Iraq and Afghanistan and served their country. Mr. Dire became a brilliant and ruthless businessman and he is also extremely successful and rich. Other than being effective in his chosen profession, he is not like any other businessman, nor does he have any inclination to be. This successful entrepreneur doesn't manufacture a product, build, or sell anything. He doesn't invest in stocks, bonds or in the commodities market. Anonymity is the cornerstone of his lucrative murder for hire business. The other, although he had wanted to become an engineer and didn't intend to be, he like his father and father before him ended up in law enforcement. Then destiny, fate, or mere happenstance intervened.

Burn Paul Slatter 2017-02-13 In the still of the night a beautiful woman's spine is broken as she watches her boyfriend burn to death out on a creek. Daltrey, a young detective with the Vancouver Police Department, who likes to work outside the system and has time for no one, wants to know why. With the help of a young electronics genius unwittingly turned model, a legendary but aging private detective, and a host of others tied together by the mayhem of Vancouver's seedy underbelly, Daltrey hunts a psychopath through webs of prostitution, deception, and savage violence. As undeniably funny as it is dark, Burn is at once a tale of revenge and of the elusive fantasies of truth driving each of its larger than life but deeply flawed hero's, villains, and strange tag alongs. Paul Slatter offers a rare portrait of the lies and madness at the heart of modern life, revealing a host of hilarious desires, perversions, and raw psychotic impulses that are often too close for comfort, and somehow still keeps us laughing on every page.

Fire of God Paul Hashagen 2010 "It is just after Christmas in 1919, and the icy grip of a relentless winter freeze has seized Manhattan. Snowstorm after snowstorm buries the city, and plummeting temperatures freeze the North River solid. With the streets of New York in impassable chaos, most people stay indoors to find what comfort they can inside the walls of their chilled apartments and freezing tenements. Except one. A solitary, troubled, demon-plagued man who walks the silent streets to burn -- to bring peace to his tortured soul through the ferocious destruction of fire. It is just after Christmas in 1919, and New York City is besieged by fire and ice. Thrust into this maelstrom of fire and ice is New York City Fire Marshal Wes Causey. ..Just as he did in The Twelfth Hour, his first Wes Causey novel, Paul Hashagen brings his unique appreciation of New York City's history and his meticulous attention to the details of actual firegrounds to Fire of God, a fast-paced and compelling novel that brings New York City's past into America's present in extremely important ways."

Points of Origin... Playing with Fire John L. Orr 2008-04 Join the investigation as lead character, Arson Investigator Phil Langtry, searches every clue to uncover a serial arsonist. Could it possibly be `one of their own'? This scintillating story was confiscated from the author's home at the time of his arrest. Many believe it parallels his own activities while working as the fire captain and lead arson investigator for the Glendale Fire Department, California. He is currently serving a life sentence at Lompoc Penitentiary, California. This uncut story continues to be a source of ongoing controversy as recently witnessed on Investigative Reports, Nova and Arrest & Trial.

Tragic End to a Life Against the Odds, James Thewlis

Incendiary Man David Schudel 2018-05-04 Inman sets fires for money. Upset by his latest deed, a crime family pays another fire setter to find and kill him. The failed attempt starts a battle between the two hired torches, leaving a trail of destruction for the Boston Arson Squad to figure out. Meanwhile, the gruesome Axman strikes again, cutting the head, hands and feet of his victims and setting their wealthy homes on fire. The Arson Squad's Diana Reed and Alex Barnes become wrapped in a puzzle deeper and more dangerous than either could have imagined.

Incidents in the Life of Markus Paul David Adams Richards 2012-06-01 An intricate story about the miscarriage of justice in the case of one man's death in a shipping yard in New Brunswick in 1985. The novels is a meticulous study of the various half-truths, political machinations and outright lies that led to the incrimination of one man, Roger Savage, in the death of Hector Penniac.

Cradle of Fire Paul Snider 2019-06-03 What does it mean to be a man? In Detroit during the 1930's and 1940's, being raised by a divorced mother during peak unemployment and pre-war jitters, sex, violence, and spirituality are woven together in a complex web surrounding a young Andrew Cameron. As he learns to navigate a family legacy of both immoral characters and honorable heroes, Andrew struggles to rise above poverty, war, and loss, and find the voice that will truly guide him...

Excerpt: George de Mohrenschildt (April 17, 1911 - March 29, 1977) was a petroleum geologist and Professor who befriended Lee Harvey Oswald in the summer of 1962 and maintained that friendship until Oswald's death two days after the assassination of U.S. President John F. Kennedy. He had personal acquaintance with the Bush family, including George H. W. Bush, whose nephew he had been roommates with at Phillips Academy at Andover, and the Bouvier family, including Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy, the president's wife, when she was still a child. His testimony before the Warren Commission investigating the assassination was one of the longest of any witness. George de Mohrenschildt was born in Mozyr in Tsarist Russia, near the border of Poland (his birthdate was April 4 in the old style Russian Julian calendar). His wealthy father, Sergius Alexander von Mohrenschildt, an anti-Communist, was arrested and put in prison by the Bolsheviks shortly after the Russian Revolution. After being sentenced to life as an exile in Siberia, he managed to escape with his family to Poland during the...

Torched Minds Ed Nordskog 2011-10 "Detective Ed Nordskog's "Torched Minds" is true crime at its best. These stories of over sixty serial arsonists are re-told by an award winning arson investigator and expert in the field. The arson cases are taken from famous, nationally known events and from the author's own case files. These arsonists include serial murderers, serial rapists, serial poisoners, firefighters, phony cops, "wannabes", and others masquerading as heroes. These true characters are sometimes so bizarre, sinister, and devious that Hollywood's best writers could not imagine some of their deeds."

American Arsonists Source Wikipedia 2013-09 Please note that the content of this book primarily consists of articles available from Wikipedia or other free sources online. Pages: 44. Chapters: Lisa Lopes, Richard Hell, David Berkowitz, Kenny Richey, Ted Maher, Joseph Massino, Rod Coronado, Joseph Paul Franklin, John Leonard Orr, Ottis Toole, Carl Panzram, Ranger Ross, William Cottrell, Daniel G. McGowan, James Scott, Tre Arrow, Craig Titus, Kelly Ryan, Shirley Winters, Marie Mason, Thomas Sweatt, Jeff Luers, Steven Benson, James Butler, Chelsea Dawn Gerlach, Julio Gonzalez, Nicole Diar, Kevin Foster, Gregory Scott Johnson, Richard Dale Morrison, Paul Kenneth Keller, Debora Green. Excerpt: David Richard Berkowitz (born Richard David Falco; June 1, 1953), also known as Son of Sam and the .44 Caliber Killer, is an American serial killer and arsonist whose crimes terrorized New York City from July 1976 until his arrest in August 1977. Shortly after his arrest in August 1977, Berkowitz confessed to killing six people and wounding several others in the course of eight shootings in New York between 1976 and 1977; he has been imprisoned for these crimes since 1977. Berkowitz subsequently claimed that he was commanded to kill by a demon who possessed his neighbor's dog. Berkowitz later amended his confession to claim he was the shooter in only two incidents, personally killing three people and wounding a fourth. The other victims were killed, Berkowitz claimed, by members of a violent satanic cult of which he was a member. Though he remains the only person charged with or convicted of the shootings, some law enforcement authorities argue that Berkowitz's claims are credible: according to John Hockenberry formerly of MSNBC and NPR, many officials involved in the original "Son of Sam" case suspected that more than one person was committing the murders. Hockenberry also reported that the Son of Sam case was reopened in 1996 and, as of 2004, it was still considered open. Berkowitz was born Richard David Falco in...

Delta File Louis Franken 2016-12-21 The shocking experience traumatized young John Bolle. He believes that the Zeeland delta should be restored in its original state. He mobilizes a number of supporters. Under his leadership, they work out a dangerous plan to inflict much damage to the Eastern Scheldt storm surge barrier so that the water will flow freely into the Eastern Scheldt area, and the ecological system will be restored to its former glory. The AIVD agents, Marnix Bijkerk and Diana Dingemanse, get the group of environmental activists, which operates under the name DEDELTAWAY on the track. They make every effort to unmask the environmental terrorism suspect group, to prevent an environmental disaster. They are helped by Rudy Stouthart who is enamored with Diana. This creates a very explosive situation that will surely arouse memories to many readers. Can the Delta be saved in time from destruction?

Chasing the Wind - The Douglas Files: Book Five Nathan Birr 2017-01-12 When art connoisseur Alec Vanderbilt died, he left behind a centuries-old Bible that is a cherished family heirloom, a valuable collectors' piece, and a possible treasure trove of CIA intel from Alec's time with "the Company." So P.I. Jackson Douglas knows reclaiming it for Alec's daughter Abby won't be easy. But should it really be this hard? Complicating matters are a host of government agencies, fake federal agents, spies, ex-girlfriends, and Alec's son-each of whom wants the Bible for various reasons. However, nobody causes Jackson and Abby as much trouble as the mystery woman who joins the hunt with them. Pursuit of the Bible takes them from an opulent downtown L.A. hotel to an art gala on Santa Catalina Island, and from a game of cat-and-mouse aboard Amtrak's Coast Starlight to a snow-covered mountain hideaway. If Jackson is to procure the Bible for Abby, he'll need to stay one step ahead of the entire gang-not to mention stay alive long enough to figure out how to pull it off.

Fire Raisers, Freaks and Fiends Ed Nordskog 2013-09-18 An award winning arson investigator brings you over thirty cases from his own files and those of his colleagues. These true case histories cover the entire spectrum of arson crimes from the hapless goof to the most evil and obsessive fiends of them all. Among this collection are the erratic street denizens who are the serial arsonists. This group wanders your streets at night igniting anything that strikes their fancy. A more dangerous and dedicated group is the "mission men" who are trying to set a fire or explosion of cataclysmic proportions, with deadly intentions. The most colorful and odd group in this book has been labeled "whackjobs, weirdos and wannabes". This group consists of phonies masquerading as firefighters, cops, secret agents and others. The chapter on "mad men" shows how much a man's hate will drive him until all rational thought goes out the window. The author, Ed Nordskog has been a police detective for over 23 years and a specialist in arson and bomb investigations for the past 17 years. His beat is the sprawling Los Angeles basin with its over nine million citizens. His case histories in this book are a mere sampling of his 1,700 arson investigations. He has arrested and sat face to face in cramped interview rooms with over 300 arsonists and bombers. Some of these people are also rapists, murderers, gang members, devil worshipers, child molesters, and child murderers. Nordskog's first book, "Torched Minds-Case histories of notorious serial arsonists", has been widely accepted and lauded in the arson investigation field. This exhaustive study focused on over 60 case histories of the more famous serial arson investigations. Nordskog's current book goes into much more depth to chronicle the various subtypes of the more dangerous arsonists he's come across. He shows obsessive-compulsive stalkers and rapists. He meets and speaks with several dangerous paranoid-schizophrenics who have voices within their heads telling them to burn and kill. He highlights a few suspects who went out on a fiery mission with very little expectation to survive the day, and with the stated goal of taking as many victims with them as possible. He introduces you to people who maim, torture and kill helpless animals and family pets with poison and fire. Lastly, Nordskog introduces true crime readers to the shadowy world of arson investigation and to the investigators themselves. The cases in this book are weirder or more bizarre than can be dreamt up by a Hollywood screenwriter. They are all also 100% true. These cases cover an area from the Los Angeles basin, through the desert region and along the foothills and forests that run up and down the entire state of California. Det. Ed Nordskog has been and arson/bomb investigator, undercover narcotics detective, and a detective working burglaries, robberies, auto theft and other major crimes. He has a Master's Degree and has received over 85 awards for his investigative work to include "Law Enforcement Officer of the Year" and "International Arson Investigator of the Year". He continues to work as an arson/bomb investigator for the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department. He is an active lecturer and instructor in this field for the State of California, the California Conference of Arson Investigators and the International Association of Arson Investigators.
