The work "Analyzing Casual Conversation" by Suzanne Eggins and Diana Slade, originally released in 1997, creates a systematic model for the study and description of casual conversation in English. The writers contend that despite its sometimes aimless appearance and seemingly unstructured content, casual conversation is a highly structured activity and performs a critical function in the social construction of reality. The book goes through authentic examples of casual conversations involving participants diverging in age, gender, ethnicity, and socio-economic class<sup>12</sup>. Deriving on perspectives from sociology, linguistics, and critical semiotics, the work furnishes readers with the analytical skills to describe the strata of structure and critical interpretive frameworks to elucidate the 'social work' that happens on through chat.
