EARLY SIKH TRADITION W. H. McLeod 1980

33 SNOWFISH Adam Rapp 2011-04-12 "Adam Rapp's brilliant and haunting story will break your heart. But then his words will mend it. . . . Absolutely unforgettable." – Michael Cart On the run in a stolen car with a kidnapped baby in tow, Custis, Curl, and Boobie are three young people with deeply troubled pasts and bleak futures. As they struggle to find a new life for themselves, it becomes painfully clear that none of them will ever be able to leave the past behind. Yet for one, redemption is waiting in the unlikelyst of places. With the raw language of the street and lyrical, stream-of-consciousness prose, Adam Rapp hurtles the reader into a world of lost children, a world that is not for the faint of heart. Gripping, disturbing, and starkly illuminating, his hypnotic narration captures the voices of two damaged souls – a third speaks only through drawings – to tell a story of alienation, deprivation, and ultimately, the saving power of compassion.

DYSLEXIA AND EFFECTIVE LEARNING IN SECONDARY AND TERTIARY EDUCATION Morag Hunter-Carsch 2001-10-22 Recent policy initiatives illuminate the need for greater teacher awareness about dyslexia in secondary and tertiary education. Yet the debates about dyslexia are often narrowly based and can exclude some teachers. This book attempts to open up the debate by bringing together different ways of talking and thinking about dyslexia. Fundamental questions about how to respond to dyslexia in teaching and support contexts are addressed and the significance of [?] exploratory conversions[?] between learners and tutors is recognised. The need to restructure [?] the structured approach[?] and to consider meta-affectivity as well as metacognition is explored. Practitioners in both secondary and tertiary schools can gain ready access to contributions from internationally respected writers and teachers in the field. Alan Hurst[?] preface refers to [?] this important book[?] as paving the way to a more truly inclusive attitude and approach to education in and beyond compulsory schooling.

TRANSFORMING YOUTH CUSTODY Great Britain Ministry of Justice 2013-02-14 This report describes the Government's plans for placing high quality education at the centre of youth custody. Plans to reform youth custody will see young people appropriately punished while at the same time learning to take responsibility for their actions and gaining the skills and qualifications they need to lead productive, law-abiding lives. Secure colleges would provide education in a period of detention rather than detention with education as an afterthought. The consultation paper covers: key information on youth custody and the young people held there; the case for change; our vision for secure colleges which place education at the heart of the system. The main areas for consideration by all respondents are: tailoring education to young people in custody; meeting the wider needs of young people in custody; closing the gap between custody and community; the physical environment and meeting demand; a focus on outcomes. All responses should be submitted by 30 April 2013
