The Frailty of Reputation Richard A. Platt 2014-11-01 Three young people with the same initials, but with little else in common: Scott Marshall, A schools' champion athlete and sixth form student at Turnvale Academy, university is his dream. Admired by almost everyone, but especially by Gemma. Susan Matthews; A tale-teller who craves celebrity, a believer in the motto, why let the truth stand in the way of a good story. Shane Myers; A bitter thug spiralling out of control. Sergeant Porter's public enemy number one. Three Stories woven together by events; Scott's promising future is thrown into turmoil by accusations and mounting evidence of his guilt. Can his friends prove Scott's conspiracy theory is not just a figment of his imagination. Susan's love for a story leads her into the cruel bullying world of Nicki Taylor and her sadistic friends. When you are prone to exaggeration, like Susan, it is hard to get support when you really need it. Shane's malicious tormenting of a former teacher is a certain path to a life of crime and punishment, one night of vandalism and one badly injured elderly lady are major pieces in the jigsaw of his worthless life. Three Reputations made or broken; Three young people with three differing reputations, what will the future hold for them when their stories unfold? Key skills 2/3

The administration of examinations for 15-19 year olds in England Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee 2012-07-03 This report from the Education Committee looks at the administration of examinations for 15-19 year olds in England. The Committee expresses serious concerns about incentives in the exam system and about competition on syllabus content. Incentives in the system should be changed so the downward pressure through the competition of exam boards is mitigated. The Committee considers a number of options to change incentives, including: (i) A single board. This offers a simpler system, with no risk of competition, but the Committee believes the cost, risk and disruption outweigh the benefits; (ii) Franchising of subjects to exam boards. This removes syllabus competition, but again has downsides; (3) Or the current system of multiple boards. The Committee sees no benefit in competition on syllabus content, but the setting and marking of exams and associated administration, if properly regulated, could generate incentives and drive quality up, offering value for money to schools and colleges.The Committee also recommends the development of national syllabuses, accredited by Ofqual. The syllabuses would be developed by exam boards in conjunction with learned bodies and employer organisations and could therefore retain the benefits of competition on quality and the incentive for exam boards to innovate.
