He was tired of his existence. He was dull, sad, and unfulfilled. He had a work he detested, a manager he loathed, and a significant other he didn't love. He had no zeal, no aim, no meaning. He sensed like he was misusing his time, his potential, his existence. He wished to alter, he wanted to escape, he wanted to survive. He chose to leave his job, to end things with his significant other, to sell his possessions, and to purchase a direct fare to the opposite end of the world. He didn't realize where he was going, he didn't realize what he was performing, he didn't know what he was searching for. He only realized that he had to depart, that he had to discover, that he had to uncover. He started on a voyage of a thousand miles, a trip of adventure, of difficulty, of learning, of development, of change.

The Mystery of the Missing Diamond

It was a gloomy and tempestuous night. The downpour was pouring down, and the breeze was roaring. In the center of the metropolis, there was an exhibition, where an invaluable diamond was on display. The diamond was known as the African Star, and it was the greatest and most stunning diamond in the globe. It was secured by an advanced security mechanism, and a group of equipped guards. No one could steal it, or so they thought. But an individual did. Someone managed to circumvent the security, to elude the watchmen, to shatter the glass, and to take the diamond. And no one saw them, no one heard them, no one knew who they were. They left no sign, no lead, no evidence. They vanished into the darkness, with the Star of Africa. And the mystery of the vanished diamond started.
