Current State of Open Educational Resources in the “Belt and Road” Countries

2020-03-24 Ronghuai Huang This book presents the current state of Open Educational Resources (OER) within the countries covered by the China's Belt and Road Initiative. The authors describe eight aspects of OER development in their countries: infrastructure, policy, resources, open license, curriculum and teaching methodology, outcome, stakeholders and impact. This book also conducts a comparative study between those countries to identify the OER gaps in the Belt and Road countries. It then offers valuable insights and recommendations for several stakeholders, including policy makers and educators, wishing to integrate open educational resources into educational processes, as well as for those involved in inter-regional open educational resources cooperation.

Contributory Negligence in the Twenty-First Century

2019-03-21 James Goudkamp Despite the centrality of the contributory negligence doctrine in practice, almost nothing is known about how it functions in reality. The authors, seeking to fill this deficit in understanding, have undertaken a wide-ranging empirical study of how the doctrine is handled by the courts. They report their methodology and findings in this volume, framing their discussion within the law of contributory negligence. The study is based on 572 first instance decisions on contributory negligence from across the United Kingdom decided between 2000 and 2016, and 129 appellate decisions handed down in the same period. The analysis considers the operation of the contributory negligence doctrine at first instance and on appeal, and in a range of contextual settings, including road accidents, accidents at work, and professional negligence claims. The authors also consider how the study can be used to inform future developments in this area of law. Substantial appendices set out the key data on which the book is based, enabling academics to utilize the dataset in their own research and allowing practitioners to compare their cases easily with previously decided claims.

Mystery of the Missing Diamond

It was a dark and stormy night. The rain was falling heavily, and the wind was howling. In the middle of the city, there was a museum, where a priceless diamond was on show. The diamond was called the Star of Africa, and it was the largest and most stunning diamond in the earth. It was protected by a high-tech security system, and a group of equipped guards. No one could pilfer it, or so they believed. But somebody did. Someone succeeded to bypass the protection, to elude the sentinels, to break the pane, and to take the diamond. And no one observed them, no one heard them, no one recognized who they were. They exited no mark, no hint, no testimony. They faded into the darkness, with the African Star. And the mystery of the vanished diamond began.
