SME Competitiveness Outlook 2022
2022-10-21 International Trade Centre
Our services sectors are key to an economic transformation. This report calls them 'connected services. Transport and logistics, financial services, information and communication technologies, and business and professional services contribute directly to economic growth – with an increasing share of output, trade and jobs. These sectors also contribute indirectly, making other firms more competitive by connecting them to global value chains and digital innovations. For example: in regions with high quality connected services, 44% of all companies' export, compared with 19% of firms where the quality of connected services is lower. Connected services spur inclusive growth that is favorable for small businesses, including those led by women and young people. Yet most small firms in developing countries do not access them easily. This report explores the measures that companies, business support organizations and policymakers must take to help connected services flourish – to benefit all firms, foster more prosperous economies and build more inclusive societies.

New Trends in Multimedia and Network Information Systems

2008-08-21 K. Choroś New Trends in Multimedia and Network Information Systems discusses a very broad scope of subject matters including multimedia systems in their widest sense, web systems and network technologies. The studies are original and were not published anywhere else. The chapters represent the dominant advances in computer information systems and it is worth emphasizing that in most cases the research work relies heavily on the achievements and techniques developed originally in the area of artificial intelligence. As a result, the monograph is divided into four major parts: multimedia information technology; data processing in information systems; information system applications; and web systems and network technologies. Each of these parts covers a couple of chapters on detailed subject fields that comprise the area of its title.

The Peabody Picture Vocabulary Test 4th Edition (PPVT-4) is a widely recognized vocabulary evaluation that has been in practice for almost 50 years. Created by Lloyd M. Dunn and Douglas M. Dunn, the assessment is made to assess receptive vocabulary for American English. It is fast and effortless to conduct, saving valuable time so that focus can be set on applying intelligent strategies.

The PPVT-4 assessment subject matter includes a wide scope of vocabulary comprehension ranks, spanning from preschool through adulthood. The evaluation questions extensively include words that portray 20 subject areas (e.g., actions, vegetables, tools), parts of speech (nouns, verbs, attributes), and household and educational vocabulary.

The evaluation offers two identical versions which hold distinct vocabulary items, guaranteeing that the individual has not "learned" the evaluation. One edition can be employed before intervention implementation to evaluate test-takers' vocabulary understanding and the other form can be used for re-testing to evaluate and note improvement. The PPVT-4 also features a unique Growth Scale Value (GSV) which is sensitive to slight changes in time.
