The Mystery of the Missing Diamond

It was a gloomy and stormy night. The downpour was falling heavily, and the breeze was roaring. In the middle of the metropolis, there was a museum, where a priceless diamond was on show. The diamond was named the Star of Africa, and it was the largest and most beautiful diamond in the globe. It was secured by a high-tech security system, and a squad of armed guards. No one could steal it, or so they believed. But an individual did. Someone succeeded to bypass the safeguard, to avoid the watchmen, to shatter the pane, and to grab the diamond. And no one saw them, no one heard them, no one knew who they were. They departed from no mark, no clue, no proof. They disappeared into the nightfall, with the African Star. And the mystery of the vanished diamond started.

Journey of a Thousand Miles

He was exhausted of his living. He was uninterested, depressed, and unfulfilled. He had a work he hated, a manager he despised, and a significant other he didn't adore. He had no enthusiasm, no goal, no value. He believed like he was squandering his hours, his capability, his being. He wished to change, he wanted to run away, he wished to live. He resolved to leave his employment, to end things with his girlfriend, to dispose of his possessions, and to purchase a single ticket to the opposite end of the globe. He didn't understand where he was heading, he didn't understand what he was performing, he didn't know what he was looking for. He only realized that he had to depart, that he had to discover, that he had to discover. He started on a trip of a thousand distances, a trip of adventure, of challenge, of education, of growth, of alteration.
