Anna could never banish from her thoughts her first love, Leo. Their paths had crossed when they were both 16, at a idyllic summer camp. They were drawn to each other like magnets, spending every day sharing laughter, engaging in deep conversations, and sharing stolen kisses. Their bond was indestructible, and they vowed to maintain their bond, to cherish their connection, and to never let their love fade. But life, as it often does, had other arrangements in store for them. They lost contact, they moved on with their lives, and they eventually married other people. They were caught in a tug-of-war, torn between the alluring memories of their first love and the stability and security of their present.
