The End of the Story Lydia Davis 2014-04-08 The End of the Story is an energetic, candid, and funny novel about an enduring obsession and a woman's attempt to control it by the telling of the story of it. With ruthless honesty, artful analysis, and crystalline depictions of human and natural landscapes, Lydia Davis's novel offers a compelling illumination of the dilemmas of loss and the process of remembering.

Working Drawings Handbook Keith Styles 2014-05-16 Working Drawings Handbook focuses on the principles, styles, methodologies, and approaches involved in drawings. The book first takes a look at the structure of information, types of drawing, and draftsmanship. Discussions focus on dimensioning, drawing conventions, techniques, materials, drawing reproduction, location drawing, component and sub-component drawings, assembly drawing, schedule, pictorial views, and structure of working drawings. The manuscript then ponders on working drawing management and other methods. Topics include planning the set, drawing register, drawing office programming, and introducing new methods. Building elements and external features, conventions for doors and windows, symbols indicating materials, electrical, telecommunications, and fire symbols, and non-active lines and symbols are also discussed. The book is a fine reference for draftsmen and researchers interested in studying the elements of drawing.

The Awful Fate Of Melpomenus Jones Stephen Leacock 2013-09-03 They say that some people have a difficult time making their excuses and saying goodbye. When, exactly, does one wear out his welcome? The answer to this is found in the awful, yet humorous, fate of one Melpomenus Jones. "The Awful Fate of Melpomenus Jones" is representative of author Stephen Leacock's writing style where he pokes fun at social absurdities and irrational behaviour. This short story was adapted into a short animated film in 1983. The Intercultural City Charles Landry 2012-05-16 In a world of increasing mobility, how people of different cultures live together is a key issue of our age, especially for those responsible for planning and running cities. New thinking is needed on how diverse communities can cooperate in productive harmony instead of leading parallel or antagonistic lives. Policy is often dominated by mitigating the perceived negative effects of diversity, and little thought is given to how adiversity dividend or increased innovative capacity might be achieved. The Intercultural City, based on numerous case studies worldwide, analyses the links between urban change and cultural diversity. It draws on original research in the US, Europe, Australasia and the UK. It critiques past and current policy and introduces new conceptual frameworks. It provides significant and practical advice for readers, with new insights and tools for practitioners such as theintercultural lensindicators of opennessurban cultural literacy andten steps to an Intercultural City. Bucătăria fără bucătărie Rodia Tilianu 101-01-01 Întotdeauna, OMul a fost și este optimist, tocmai pentru că viața este firesc să mai sere să fie salvată, trăită și nu îmbolnăvită, îmbătrânită apoi ucisă, astfel încât, în tot răul e și un bine, este bine că aceste consecințe se pun deja singure în evidență, putând de acum să avem curajul, măcar la nivel particular, să modificăm ceva din parametrii experienței prea mult repetate în aceleași condiții și cu aceleași rezultate, măcar la nivelul părții atât de importante a fiecărei noastre zile, alimentația. Soluții există, ele deja s-au conturat, așteaptă doar să le vedem, să le verificăm și apoi, să le folosim. Dincolo de orice impunere, de orice limitare, de orice definiție, alimentația naturală ar putea să aibă trei repere, de principii generice. Astfel, pentru ca ceea ce se consumă, alimentele, să își păstreze calitatea de viu (energetic, informațional), este firesc să: - consumăm produsul și nu producătorul, deci laptele și nu vacuța, oul și nu găina, fructul și nu copacul; - să nu folosim pentru pregătirea acestei hrane o temperatură mai mare decât temperatura vieții (temperatura corpului nostru fizic și chiar aceea de păstrare în alimente a enzimelor), deci să nu folosim temperaturi de peste 36 grade Celsius; - să nu o facem ca pe o impunere, ca pe o rețetă medicală, ca pe un tratament, ci deliberat, știind că este un mod corect de alimentație, un firesc de-acum al gestului nostru alimentar, ca și cum dintotdeauna așa am făcut, sau măcar cu bucuria unei noi experiențe, care rău nu poate să facă, ci eventual, numai bine. Să nu folosim produsele chimice ori de sinteză. Fiecare dintre oameni, știind, este liber să aleagă, dacă se poziționează în, una sau alta dintre posibilitățile: - de a se lăsa consumat de propria mâncare; - de a folosi hrana vie și a se echilibra, fără efort ci pur și simplu mâncând; - de a redeveni armonios, de a se reîntoarce la propria lui condiție, aceea de OM!
